The new Belmont premises can accommodate more staff and includes dedicated training, consultation and demonstration facilities spanning Lan 1's full range of solutions. According to Mathew Bertram, Marketing Manager at Lan 1, the investment is a direct result of the growing reseller base in Western Australia, with the new office to act as a strategic partner development centre for Lan 1's WA resellers.

"The WA market is somewhat isolated compared to that of the east coast. Our strategy is to become a knowledge hub for the WA reseller market. The new office will enable us to provide partners with the expertise to not only identify, specify and sell solutions, but also provide them the necessary hands-on experience to successfully deploy and support these solutions. This investment enables a much more agile training schedule, and provides Channel Partners with a complete working environment to learn in."

To reinforce their commitment to the channel, Lan 1 will continue to invest in the education and training of reseller partners with assist directly from vendors, and via the Lan 1 WA Team who already hold an impressive array of vendor-certifications including; Ruckus Wireless Solutions Engineer, RAD Data Communications Authorised Technical Trainer, Palo Alto Networks Certified Engineer, Motorola Authorised Wireless Broadband Trainer, Milestone XProtect Professional Engineer, Certified SonicWALL Sales Administrator and Motorola Solutions Sales Associate accreditation.

Lan 1 offers a range of training courses to its resellers, educating on both the sales and technical aspects of the Lan 1 portfolio.
